

In the 1970s, Anne accompanied her first husband to Mayo Clinic throughout his treatment for lung cancer. Though cancer ultimately claimed his life, she was grateful for their expert care and compassion.

Anne later remarried, and then she was diagnosed with cancer in 2013. She remembered Mayo Clinic. She also remembered the hours of travel.

That's when her ThedaCare Radiation Oncologist, Dr. Editha Krueger, suggested an eConsult with Mayo Clinic. For Anne, that meant additional input from Mayo Clinic at no additional cost. And no additional travel. She received peace of mind about her local care plan, and was able to stay home near family and friends.

And now, Anne is cancer free.

Since 2013, ThedaCare doctors have submitted nearly 200 eConsults for complex cases at no additional cost to patients. Of this 200, 86% could still be treated locally.

ThedaCare is known for complex care. And now, you can have even more peace of mind in your local treatment plan.

You first. Just as it should be.
